for Children and Adults

Group Homes

Oak Hill's group homes provide quality homes for children and adults with intellectual and physical disabilities. Our homes are located throughout Connecticut. Each home has been carefully designed to accommodate the needs of the people living in them. We have full-time and part-time support staff, supervisors, nurses, speech therapists, occupational therapists, physical therapists and social workers. Our staff also includes dietitians, managers, and behavior specialists.

Most participants have their own bedroom. Two to eight program participants live in a home with the average being six per home.

Group homes provide top quality housing for adults living with intellectual or physical disabilities.

We offer homes for children and adults and we work with each program participant's planning team to provide a successful transition. Homes for children under 21 are dedicated to supporting children with medically complex needs or behavioral challenges and to providing continuity of learning from school to home.

Every Oak Hill group home features:

- Individualized program plans
- Highly qualified professionals
- Daily person-centered activities designed to enhance learning and personal competencies
- Leisure time activities that encourage the pursuit of hobbies and development of friendships
- Emphasis on community integration
- Safe, comfortable, and personalized environments

Community Companion Homes (CCH)

The CCH Model embraces integration in the community through Department of Developmental Services (DDS) licensed individuals or families to provide companionship to individuals with intellectual disabilities.

Oak Hill is proud to be a vendor who provides support to individuals who seek to become licensed as CCH providers.

If you are interested in learning more about the CCH model, please contact:

How Do You Know If You Are Eligible for DDS Services?

Individuals must be enrolled in the Connecticut Department of Developmental Services (DDS) Comprehensive Waiver Program to receive residential services.
